10/24/2007 FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Savage Range Systems completes Test Ranges for Barrett Firearms

WESTFIELD, MA: Savage Range Systems, Inc., manufacturers of indoor and outdoor shooting ranges, bullet traps, steel targets and shoot houses, recently completed delivery of a new bullet trap for Barrett Firearms Manufacturing, Inc.

Barrett Firearms took delivery of a custom Proof and Function Model PF13000 bullet trap, specially designed to handle the powerful proof load used to test their .50 caliber precision rifles at their manufacturing facility in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. Ronnie Barrett, founder and owner of Barrett Firearms says, "We have a long history with Savage; a relationship that has been a win, win for both companies. I believe that we were the first customer for a bullet trap specifically for a .50-caliber rifle. I am a satisfied customer who wants to commend them and also recommend them to anyone needing their services."

Savage Range Systems continues to be the favorite among firearms and ammunition manufacturers for bullet traps and test ranges. Virtually every major manufacturer utilizes SRS traps for their testing facilities.
