Savage Range Systems Enters Sponsorship Agreement with Team One Network

Westfield, MA: Savage Range Systems, manufacturers of indoor and outdoor shooting ranges, bullet traps, target systems and shoot houses, is pleased to announce an agreement to sponsor Team One Network, a leading provider of realistic weapons and tactics training for the Law Enforcement and Military communities.

“Team One Network is a leader in the field of tactical training,” states Eoin B. Stafford, Vice President and General Manager of Savage Range Systems. “They are in a unique position to provide training to our customers, especially in the areas of shoot house training techniques and the use of steel targets. We also receive valuable feedback, as they extensively field test our target systems in their training exercises.”

John T. Meyer, Jr., President of Team One Network adds, “I have personally been using Porta Target systems and Shoot Houses for over 20 years. Team One Network travels around the country with a full complement of Porta Target products. Their solutions are durable and innovative, in addition to being designed to withstand repeated use in our most demanding training classes. The simple set-up of these systems offers an enormous amount of flexibility, providing many options to create unique practical drills. We couldn’t have our cutting edge programs without the quality and reliability of Porta Target systems.”

Savage Range Systems purchased Porta Target in April, 2007.
